

Presented as part of the Linus Pauling Institute 10th International Conference

NOBEL LAUREATE LOUIS IGNARRO

The Road to Stockholm: A Nobel Mission

Join us for a public lecture by 1998 Nobel Laureate Louis Ignarro, best known for elucidating the roles of nitric oxide in the body. Dr. Ignarro, the self-described son of an uneducated Italian immigrant, will share his journey to achieving one of society's highest honors.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 16th
4:30 PM | LaSells Stewart Center

3:30 PM Open House & Reception
FREE EVENT

Registration Required:

www.bit.ly/publicsession

lpi.oregonstate.edu/conference

Sponsored by:

Oregon State University
Linus Pauling Institute

Accommodations for disabilities may be made by contacting lpi@oregonstate.edu, 541-737-5075